

Peaches

We'd like you to meet Peaches.

Peaches loves three things: cigarettes before breakfast, smart but questionable recycling choices, and judging other people's taste.

Which makes her perfect for Peaches' Trailer Park—our new home for the strangest, cheapest, most gloriously over the top, and most terrible vintage horror movie trailers ever committed to film. All sent in BY YOU!

Please help Peaches fill her empty lots by sending us vintage horror movie trailers featuring buckets of blood, questionable acting, suspicious science, grindhouse gore, or a narrator screaming "TERROR BEYOND HUMAN IMAGINATION!" over footage that suggests otherwise.

There will be prizes for our favorite choices so start scouring the interwebs. We'll make another announcement in a few weeks. This one is for those of you who'd like to get a jump on things.

Send your selections to Peaches care of info@resurrection-media.com
